Bereavement Policy

This policy complements and should be read in conjunction with the School's policies on Safeguarding, Health and Safety and Child Protection, in particular. It also acknowledges the relevant sections of The Education Act 2002 and the Education (Independent Standards, England) Regulations 2015, and the document 'Working Together' 2018.

This policy also applies to the EYFS.

Rationale

Priory School is fully committed to the emotional health and well-being of its pupils and staff. To that end, this Policy recognises and supports the aims of The Children Act 1989 ensuring that the welfare of children is paramount, and the Children and Families Act 2014, which enshrines support for the best development outcomes for young people.

Objective

The intention of this Policy is to enable the School to support the bereaved and to mitigate so far as it is possible any adverse effects of bereavement and maintain pupils' emotional and mental well-being. We understand that, given that bereavement is an experience which will be faced by all members of our school community at some point, it will be more difficult when the loss is of a member of that school community – pupil or adult.

This policy aims to provide guidelines to be followed after a bereavement. The intention is to offer support to both pupils and adults.

We recognise:

- that grief is an intensely personal emotion and may not be apparent to others; nevertheless, its invisibility makes it no less real.
- that differing cultures / religions / faiths view death and bereavement with particular perspectives and are fully respected
- that the death of a child, adult member of the School community or a family member has huge repercussions beyond the immediate teaching / pastoral care team of that child or adult; and that sensitivity in dealing with and informing wider contacts is essential.

The Principal's role

In the event of the death of a member of the School community, The Principal is responsible for:

- taking a lead from the family as to communications with other members of the School community (including parents), provided that the Management Executive and Designated Safeguarding Leads, the staff, are officially informed before pupils
- liaising with outside agencies, the Local Authority and keeping the governing body informed
- responding to media enquiries and acting as sole spokesperson for the School

Support

Any member of staff affected by the death will be offered ongoing support as appropriate and will be a priority for the School.

In consultation with the family, arrangements for the School to be represented at the funeral may be clarified. The family will be asked for their views on whether they wish the death to be marked in any way by the School, and if so, how.

A degree of flexibility within the timetable may be necessary to accommodate the needs and wellbeing of children affected by the situation. It will certainly assist to have pastoral support in place for those who may not be able to attend class in the normal way. Support for each pupil should be dependent on their needs, and this may involve finding creative ways to communicate when sometimes words are not appropriate.

In the absence or indisposition of the Principal, the Head of Senior School and Sixth Form will assume this role.

The Bereaved Child

The School recognises that the impact of bereavement is long-lasting and will endeavour to be aware of any ongoing bereavement issues for new pupils. To this end, it is important to have effective communication with feeder schools.

A common experience for teachers and pupils is that of a pupil experiencing the death of a member of his/her family: particularly, parent/grandparent or sibling. While whole-school or class activities will not normally be appropriate in this situation, every consideration will be given to the needs of the child in question. A child's understanding of death varies according to age and personal beliefs, religious and non-religious. The School will always acknowledge and respect the individual's needs, rites, rituals and practices in this regard.

If a child has been bereaved, it is important to involve them in decisions about how Priory School manages issues relating to their loss, with liaison of their family. Contact with the child and their family about their preferred way of informing peers about what has happened and about what support they need will take place at the earliest possible opportunity.

Support can be offered and undertaken with Early Help and led by the school, with consent of the family.

Social media

If news of the death is shared on social media sites, the school will act quickly to establish the facts and communicate effectively to the school community as described above in order to dispel rumour and speculation, as well as alleviating unnecessary trauma to the bereaved family.

As mentioned above, the Principal is the sole spokesperson for the School: no information regarding the death will be shared or disseminated on behalf of the School by staff or pupils. Respect and empathy are key to protecting the bereaved from unnecessary distress, and the School will make every effort to handle the event and communication in as sensitive and efficient a manner as possible.

The School's Designated Safeguarding Lead is:

- Miss K Pragnell, SEN Coordinator

The Deputy Designated Safeguarding Leads are:

- Mr S Lynch [Junior School]
- Mrs J Hull [EYFS]

Section 19 of the Children and Families Act 2014 ¹ makes clear that local authorities, in carrying out their functions under the Act in relation to disabled children and young people and those with special educational needs (SEN) must have regard to:

- the views, wishes and feelings of the child or young person, and the child's parents / guardians,
- the importance of the child or young person, and the child's parents / guardians, participating as fully as possible in decisions, and being provided with the information and support necessary to enable participation in those decisions,

- the need to support the child or young person, and the child's parents / guardians, in order to facilitate the development of the child or young person and to help them achieve the best possible educational and other outcomes, preparing them effectively for adulthood.
